

Christina Foor is the Advocacy & Communications Lead at CCDA. She is an Indian-American wife and mother of 2 daughters. She is passionate about empowering others to reach their full potential, and has experience doing this in many contexts: cross-culturally, mentorship, in advocacy work, campus ministry, program directing, virtual communication, etc. Much of her work has been to empower, advocate for and walk alongside minorities and under-represented / under-resourced populations. She is also skilled at being a bridge builder due to her own background and vocation. Outside of work-following Jesus, DIY projects, adventures with her family/friends, loving people of different cultures and having them become part of her family, all bring her a lot of joy.
